Wrapping Up

- Proofread document for errors, save, and print
- To save your document. Go to File, Save As, and type in name. If you do not name document, it will take the first words on the paper, usually your name, so all documents will have the same file name unless you choose something unique to that paper.
- Select “Main Campus” printer if at VC and push “Print”
- Go to a print station and sign in to retrieve paper
- It is a good idea to save work periodically to avoid accidentally losing it. Always email project to yourself or save to a thumb drive, since computers are known to crash.
